

PARIS GREETING IS MOST ROYAL

ROOSEVELT GIVEN RECEPTION THAT IS ACCORDED KING.

WAS GUARDED BY TROOPS

Met at Depot As Though Emperor or Czar by Government's Representatives.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Paris, April 21.—Col. Roosevelt entered Paris at half past seven this morning and was received with all the honors of a reigning monarch. A cordon of troops at the station held back the multitude which, despite the early hour, had congregated. Col. Roosevelt was welcomed by American Ambassador Lacey, Janin, and the French Ambassador, who came from America especially to be present during Roosevelt's visit, commander Hottel, personal aid to President Fallot, and a number of other notables. The former president was greatly touched by the character of his reception. This afternoon the official part of Col. Roosevelt's program was begun with a call on President Fallot. In honor of Roosevelt's visit the city is brilliant with American flags. Col. Roosevelt issued a statement today saying that the Rome dispatch stating that he, upon his return to America, would do his utmost to drive from Rome the "Methodists who are a disgrace to any religion," was unqualifiedly a falsehood.

WAS "GERMLAND" A PRESS AGENT HOAX ON U. W. FACULTY?

Reported That "Varsity Professors" "Fell For" Advertising Dodge of Vacuum Cleaner Agent.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., April 21.—Members of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, meeting here this week, are poking fun at President Charles R. Van Hise and Professors Raymond and Frost of the department of bacteriology for "falling for" the most clever and successful press agent stunt ever perpetrated here. Two rival agents for competing vacuum cleaning concerns sought the contract for installing a system in the residence of President Van Hise. The vendor of a portable, electric motor vacuum and the regents made an appropriation with the understanding that the portable system be purchased. The other agent, who had a permanent system involving a drain in the basement for the gathering of the dirt, got busy with the professors of bacteriology, wrote an ingenious play entitled "in Germland" and had a score of university scientists called last Monday night. The play, which instructed the respondents to "work up" an interesting literary and dramatic interest in having Roseland's "Chamberlain" backed off the boards for novelty, was really a "knock" for the portable cleaner and a great "hoax" for the permanent basement drain apparatus. The characters in the play were impersonations of various well-known persons. They recited how they could pass in and out of the portable cleaner with no danger, but with great speed, but that when the basement drain cleaner came along they were swept into entire destruction and therefore consented to declare war on Professors Raymond and Frost and the makers of the germ-destroying kind of vacuum cleaner. President Van Hise went to the regents and declared that on the advice of Professors Raymond and Frost, he preferred the kind of cleaner he did not mention that the "play" was the "hoax" and he asked an additional appropriation of $100 for the purchase of the "better" appliances. He got the money lunch. So well advertised was the play that Sam Lederer of the Olympic theatre of Chicago, and also a Milwaukee man came here to see it and purchase the stage rights, but upon investigation, neither wants to go farther. Professors Raymond and Frost and President Van Hise are said to be deeply chagrined.

DID WIDOW TAKE VALUABLE ASSETS FROM BANK VAULT?

Administrator of Des Forges Estate Wants Her to Tell Whether She Did or Not.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Milwaukee, April 21.—Did or did not, Mrs. Mary J. Des Forges, widow of the late George Des Forges, remove certain of his assets from the safety deposit vault within two or three hours after the death of the Milwaukee pianist bookkeeper? This is the question which the special administrator of the estate of Des Forges asks, and the value of that estate is estimated at $75,000, wants answered by the widow before Judge Michael P. Sheridan in branch one of the county court.

Potions to that effect were filed today by the counsel for the Wisconsin Trust company as special administrators of the estate. The petition sets up that it would the widow to answer whether she did or did not remove certain of the assets of the deceased from the safety deposit boxes in the Wisconsin Trust company vaults within two or three hours after her husband's death.

The state charged that on this day Dr. Hyde poisoned Margaret.

TEN YEARS GIVEN FAY ON HIS PLEA

Eddie Fay and His Companion to Go to the Federal Prison.

They were sentenced to ten years' imprisonment and were fined six thousand dollars each. They will probably be sent to the government prison at Atlanta, Georgia.

It is probable that as soon as Fay has served his sentence for the Richmond robbery he will be brought to Wisconsin to answer to the charge of looting the Superior, Wis., postoffice in 1905. There are also several other cases hanging over his head so that the authorities believe that they now have him behind the bars for some time to come.

CONSIDER MADISON BOY AN AUTHORITY ON HALLEY'S COMET

John E. Mellish Has Seen Celestial Tramp With Naked Eye—Has Discovered Two Comets Himself.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Madison, Wis., April 21.—Himself the discoverer of two comets, John E. Mellish, a farmer boy of Cottage Grove in this county, today is an authority on the subject of Halley's comet, which he sighted with the naked eye early yesterday morning, and then viewed it with his telescope of his own crude make. This boy has just turned twenty. All his life he has taken a deep interest in astronomy, and in 1907 he discovered a new comet, which was officially named after him. Today the Mellish comet figures as an important addition to the astronomer's knowledge of the heavens in this and other lands.

Past, George C. Comstock, director of the Washburn observatory in this city, presented young Mellish's name to the observatory of the City of Mexico for membership, and Mellish accepted the honor. As a result he now gets all the scientific publications of the society and has become an ardent student of the solar system.

Mellish's story of Halley's comet in his own words was given to a local newspaper today, and is as follows: "Halley's comet has been seen at every return to the sun for the last thousand years, and will be regarded as something 'bad to have around.' But now things have changed, and we know that a great comet's tail is nothing to be afraid of.

"The earth and moon passed through a comet's tail in 1861 and all without any bad effects. The smoke-laden air over our heads is many times denser than a comet's tail, and much more poisonous.

"In 1665 the comet was a famous object which crossed in 1745 it was not noticed, so much. In 1722 it was only a star with a short tail. In 1791 and 1795 it was seen only for a few days. In 1760 it was a great sight, with a tail 70 degrees in length, or over one-third of the way across the sky, and all kinds of trouble was held to its passage around the sun. In 1531 and 1607 it was in bad position for sighting, and observation caused little discussion.

"In 1833 it was a small star with a short tail and was not thought much about except by astronomers. Halley, an English astronomer, was looking over the elements of the comets of 1378, 1456, 1531, 1697 and 1682, and there was 'no' coincidence between them known then. But he came to the conclusion that they were reappearances of the same comet and that it would return in 1758. Yet he knew he would not live to see it. Astronomers then took it up and started to figure out its orbit and time of next return. So when it came around in 1758 it had lost much of its terror. It was not well observed, however, except by a few astronomers, where the tail reached from the horizon nearly to the zenith. In 1835 it was not much of a sight and was not seen long with the naked eye.

"Now in 1910 we shall see it with the naked eye the last of April. It will then be a star with a short tail. On the 18th, an hour before sunrise, it will be the closest to the sun, and it has now started to travel out from the sun and towards the earth. By May 1 the comet will rise about midnight. By May 10 the tail will reach about one-third of the way across the sky and the end of it will show in the east late in the evening. From that date the head of the comet will go down to the sun and on May 18 will pass between us and the sun at a distance of fifteen million miles from the earth. The next evening it will be seen in the southwest as a very long ray of light, but the moon will then be so close to it that it will not show nearly as plainly as it was in the morning sky.

"From May 20 it will travel out from the sun and away from the earth, so that it will not be well seen but a few days. An opera glass will be the best instrument with which to view it. It is unfortunate that it should be in best view in the morning hours, but astronomers will not mind that.

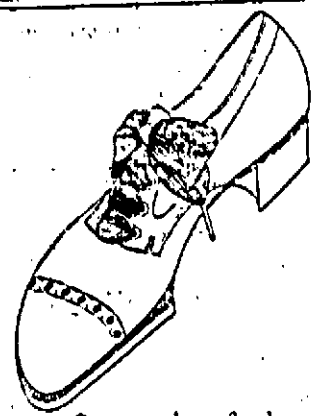

"The comet will be the largest about May 1 to 17 in the morning hours, and again from May 19 to June 1 in the evening sky.

"The city lights will blot out most of its beauty to those living near, so when one wants to get a good view he should take a trip out a few miles, where these lights do not interfere."

GYMNASTIC FEATS WERE PERFORMED

ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF Y. M. C. A. HELD AT HIGH SCHOOL LAST NIGHT.

MEMBERS OF THE CLASSES

In Gymnasium Work at the Association Gave Principal Part of Program—Affair Was Great Success.

Forty or more of the members of the Young Men's Christian Association appeared last evening in the annual gymnastic exhibition given by the association in the auditorium of the high school building. A series of high school exercises, such as the regular work of the various gymnasium classes of the Y. M. C. A., were given, showing the training and physical development received. The affair was under the direction of Physical Director George Wheeler and it was due, largely to his efforts that it was such a success. For several weeks past he has been utilizing his work with the classes, drilling them in the parts each was to take, that there should be no flaw in the display of their work. His work has certainly brought results, for from start to finish everything passed off as smoothly as clockwork and there were no noticeable interruptions in the presentation of the program. The entire performance was given by Y. M. C. A. members.

A large number of friends of the association were present and their acceptance of the program was very enthusiastic. Applause and cheers greeted each number and had there been time, several encores would have been given.

The musical numbers of the evening were given by the Janesville Symphony Orchestra, who opened the program with two fine selections and played in the interim between the acts with music. The music for the drills was played by Edgar Kohler, pianist.

After the overture by the orchestra, the youngest members of the association, the "A" Juniors appeared in a drill in calisthenics, work in the development of the lungs, and a maze run.

The "Slave Song" from the "Father Christmas Annual" was sung by Charles Collett in a very pleasing manner. Miss Florence McCarthy accompanied him on the piano.

The "A" Juniors concluded their work with a vaulting display on the horse and a number of the "B" Juniors went through a dumb bell drill.

Four of the Juniors, Nelson Horn, Charles Sayles, Hallett Day and Elmer Inman, with Physical Director Wheeler executed a series of tumbling stunts.

In the line of yandoville, the slack wire act of Sterling Campbell and William McDonald, Campbell performed a number of stunts on the slack wire, coming in dressed as an old woman, removing his attire while on the wire, juggling dumbbells and playing on the mandolin, while balancing. McDonald furnished the comedy for this act with a number of comical tricks that brought applause.

Two young men from the Senior class, wearing natty white suits with bright red sashes, gave exercises in free gymnastics, showing exercises developing the muscles of the limbs and arm drills. They also took part in gymnastic feats in vaulting the horse.

Four of the older members of the association, Hollo, Dobson, Sterling Campbell and William McDonald, performed on the parallel bars, the latter kneeling them.

Prof. L. P. Rahr's vocal solo was given on ovation and an encore was asked for, but as the entertainment was nearing a close he was unable to respond.

The skilful and sensational of the evening was the special tumbling stunts of William McDonald, Sterling Campbell and Little John Grinnin. McDonald as the clown, kept the audience continually laughing.

On the horizontal bars Hollo, Dobson and Mr. Wheeler performed some difficult feats requiring muscular development. The finale was an exhibition of grand pyramids by the Senior class.

The Participants. The participants in the exhibition were:

"A" Juniors: James Dixon, Nelson Horn, Willie Feltz, Paul Lealle, Hallett Day, William Bennett, Lyle Board, Lloyd Jones, Robert Hogan, Linn Elmer, Walter Craig, Everett Harper, Ross Lowry, Harry Williams, Ralph Morse, Dean Kimball, Charles Sayles, Elmer Inman, Fred Wolff, Ross Lowry, and Lawrence Wright.

"B" Juniors: Harold Laughlin, Charles McKelvie, Raymond Mason, Willie Heller, Winfield Iron, Leslie Stewart, and Victor McCarthy.

Seniors: Hollo, Dobson, Albert Huelst, Will Heller, Frank Rider, Frank and Joseph Schuler, Arthur Karberg, Lloyd Branks, and Frank Yulek. F. K. Doune of the Business Men's club took part in the exercises with the Seniors.

KNEW MARK TWAIN IN EARLY SIXTIES

A. C. Thorpe Was Acquainted With Great Humorist When He Was a Reporter on San Francisco Call.

To A. C. Thorpe, clerk of the municipal court, who was acquainted with Samuel L. Clemens during his early manhood, the dispatches from Redding, Conn., relating to the great humorist, have been of a particular and personal interest. It was after he had given up his position of city editor of the Virginia City (Nevada) Territorial Enterprise (1882) to which he had contributed various articles under a pen-name taken from the call of the "Leadhead" on the Mississippi steamer, "Mark Twain" (Mark Van Dusen), and joined the staff of the San Francisco Morning Call, that Mr. Thorpe knew him as one of the celebrities of congenial spirits who assembled from time to time in the surgeon's office at the Marine hospital. The young man, for they were all young then, gathered there on various occasions and without invitation to test the hospitality of Dr. Stockbridge, then one of the corps of assistant physicians, a jovial good fellow and one of Mr. Thorpe's bosom companions. Mark Twain, whenever he came to the city, was always in the company of the company for hours with anecdotes and associations of utterly incongruous ideas, propounded always with the most matter-of-fact seriousness. About this time Twain and a writer on one of the evening papers who went under the nom-de-plume of "The Skimmerhorn Boy" attracted widespread attention with a series of articles detailing remarkable and intensely amusing adventures in which the "other fellow" was invariably pictured as the hero. Mr. Thorpe went to British Columbia with the telegraph line builders, returned to the middle west, and next heard of Twain as the author of "The Hound of the Baskinville" (1883), the same being his collected letters to the Alta California, by which publication he had been sent with an expedition party on a trip to the Mediterranean and the Holy Land.

WHAT TO GROW, AND HOW

Some Suggestions That May Be of Value to the Reader Are Given Below.

Every spring the Janesville residents plan to make the plot of ground surrounding their homes more beautiful by adding nature, if possible, by planting vines and shrubs. One vine that grows quickly is the Moon vine, botanically known as Ipomoea Mexicana, grandiflora.

The flowers are four or more inches across and open early in the evening and remain open until the sun shines upon them. They are most fragrant. It is interesting to watch the blood-sucking insects, at the right time you turn your back upon them, closed, when you turn again to face them they will be open. Literally, they open as quickly as one could open an umbrella.

The three things necessary to make them grow are sunshine, lots of fertilizer and lots of water. Plant the vine, which may be a cutting, in a slight depression so the water may soak in, and once or twice in two or three weeks give a liberal dressing of fresh cow manure or pulverized sheep manure for the water to carry down. It is not unusual for a vine to grow a foot a day.

Preparing the Garden Soil.

Every garden should have its compost heap, where manure is piled up to decay. Turn it over occasionally. If it smokes or steams turn it over at once and wet it with the hose. Slow decay is wanted, not hot fermentation. A good compost heap is a gardener's most precious possession.

If your soil is a stiff heavy clay or a hard pan, there must have patience and perseverance. Break it up with a spade if your back is strong, otherwise subsidize a laborer. Work into the ground at the same time all the fresh horse manure you can. Leave the ground rough and let the manure rot. This both mechanically and chemically will help break the soil. When rotted, spade it again and if it is in reasonably fine condition, planting may be done.

In obtaining soils it may be necessary to repeat this process or to let the ground lie rough over winter for the frost to work upon. Frost is a great pulverizer of clay soils when spaded or ploughed up roughly. Now or work a clay soil when wet or sticky.

Some plants like golden glow and nasturtiums do best in a light soil without any manure. Roses like a heavy soil and it is hardly possible to give them too much manure provided it is not too close to the roots when first planted.

Fragrant Flowers. A novelty in the garden is to plant a section devoted to fragrant flowers. Not many varieties are required and they are not costly.

The strongest is the tuberosa. If a dozen or more are planted they will bloom at different times, sometimes blossoming just before frost comes. They should be planted with the tops out and all the small bulbs broken off first.

Hellebore and lemon verbenas are both delightful in fragrance and so is the rose geranium, or fish tail geranium as it is sometimes called.

These are plants that must be obtained from the florist or from seedmen who deal in plants. Sweet alyssum is also very fragrant and the dwarf varieties make a most satisfactory border. Four o'clocks, also called "the marvel of Peru," and petunias are easily obtained and easily grown and both fill the air with their fragrance, the latter especially so.

Towards evening the "true English lavender" if the plant is obtainable, gives off a fragrance which most people would find it hard to recognize. In most cases one or two plants of the varieties named will be sufficient to add a distinct perfume to the garden of fragrance and all these varieties add beauty to the garden.

Whitt, secretary, and George E. King, treasurer. The concern will be known as the Badger Telephone & Telegraph Co. It has three hundred miles of toll lines which connect with Racine, Beloit, Madison, Monroe, New Glarus, Edgerton, Delavan, Elkhorn, and a number of other cities and towns.

LOCAL PEARL HUNTERS ARE MUCH INTERESTED IN FIND

Announcement That Twenty Thousand Dollar Fresh Water Pearl Has Been Found Increases Activity.

Local pearl hunters are much excited by the statement from New York that the most perfect pearl ever found in fresh water had been delivered in Malden Lane and that it came from the Arkansas pearl fields. It is said to weigh 187 grains and is valued at twenty thousand dollars. Despite the cold weather and colder water of the river, it is said that already several of the pearl hunters of the city have been found at work below the lower bridge and dam and also at the Yaharra river entrance into the Rock.

Little Child Hurt. A little son of City Attorney J. W. Adams was struck by a street car on Church street near the Adams home last evening. The child ran upon the track and in spite of the efforts of the motorman the car struck him and threw him to one side of the street. It was feared that the child had been badly injured but he escaped with bad bruises.

To Give Play. The College Shakespeare club will present "Twelfth Night" for its hillside play this year. The club is a girls' organization and very popular. Only girls have parts in the performance.

The college girls have declined to sign a petition sent by some other schools asking the privilege of participating in the college oratorical contest with the men, but want a girls' contest.

PRESENT STATUS OF WATER WORKS CASE

No Additional Counsel Has Been Retained To Represent Janesville Before Commission.

Though Mayor Carle has been in consultation with Attorney Butler of the Madison firm of Olin & Butler, no lawyer has been retained to assist City Attorney Maxfield in presenting the water works case before the state railroad commission and there is little likelihood at the present time that such a step will be taken, though the honor has not fully completed his inquiry into the status of the case, the city's grounds for complaint, the outlook, and best course to pursue.

In view of the results obtained, the expense incurred by Beloit in retaining expert witnesses and the like (total to approximately $20,000) many are anxious to the local city officials and they are anxious to steer clear of a similar course and at the same time are no effort to further Janesville's best interests. Citizens of Beloit will not only have to pay for the prosecution of the case but also, indirectly, for the defense. For the commission can scarcely fail to permit the line City Water Co. to figure in as one of the factors in the cost of maintenance which the receipts must cover, the outlay for defense in the courts (perhaps $20,000 more) and that must mean higher rates.

The railroad commission, which in the final reckoning is certain to have its decisions largely controlled by "colorful" inquiries and the testimony of its own experts, has suggested that it be permitted to reserve this case and make a tentative judgment, with the understanding that if either side to the controversy protests on any point, the case may be reopened for consideration with reference to the same.

The local water company, which claims that its plant has been undervalued might not agree to such a procedure. But if it would there is a possibility that such a plan would find favor with the city officials.

In any event there are certain considerations with reference to this case which are worthy of attention. It seems to be conceded that nothing more than a re-adjustment, upward or downward, of the rates and perhaps some favorable rulings, or meters and service pipes are to be expected. Elsewhere hydrant rental is supposed to furnish about 46 per cent of the income. Here the percentage is said to be about 25. If the company has to pay for the meters, the commission must needs include them in the evaluation of the plant on which the rates are based.

In Praise of Angling. We may say of angling, as Dr. Rolcher said of strawberries, "Doubtless God could have made a better berry, but doubtless God never did." And so, if I might be judge, God never did make a more calm, quiet, innocent recreation than angling.—Isaac Walton, "The Complete Angler."

GOLDEN CROWN

Name over in your mind the beer drinking nations and you will find that they are noted for sobriety, thrift and health.

Pure beer never creates an appetite for stimulants. Witness the temperance and good-health apparent of the Germans, whose national beverage is beer. Sobriety and thrift have ever been German characteristics.

As a food beverage, good beer stands highest. It is a food and tonic abounding in the rich properties of the choicest selected barley. Peculiar Charitable Idea. The proposed home for indigent southern women in New York has met with such generous support on the part of northern women that the plan has been changed and widened. Instead of building the home in Virginia, as was at first proposed, it has now been determined to erect it near New York and to open it to both northern and southern women. It is planned to conduct it along the lines of the Louise home in Washington, where President Tyler's daughter spent her last days. The only restrictions will be that the inmates shall be of gentle birth and respectable. Mrs. L. Roy Brown is at the head of the committee which is raising the necessary funds.

Sexes Divided in Church.

The separation of the sexes seems to have been formerly by no means an uncommon practice in the Church of England. In fact, Edward VI.'s prayer book specially mentions that at the communion service "the men shall tarry on one side and the women on the other." The papers of a church in Westmoreland include elaborate directions for the division of the sexes at its services.

MINING LABORATORY NEARLY COMPLETED

State University Remodels Old Heating Plant and Installs Modern Machinery.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., April 21.—The mining engineering building at the University of Wisconsin, formerly the university heating plant, is now nearing completion, much of the equipment of modern mining machinery has already arrived, and the laboratories will soon be in readiness for research and instruction.

The building has been entirely rearranged, with a new concrete floor dividing the interior into a basement and an upper story, with a gallery and an open mill space at the south end, and the metallurgical furnace in the extension.

The basement portion is to contain the crushing and screening room, the ore bins, supply room, dark room, and ash wells. The upper floor is divided into a large assay furnace room, a chemical laboratory, a balance room, two offices, and the gallery on which will be installed the hand ore dressing equipment and the mining museum.

The fine assay equipment consists of eight large western type double muffle and furnace, eleven crucible coke furnaces, and a collection representing the different types of gasolene and gas assay furnaces. In the metallurgical extension there is to be a small reverberatory and a small shaft furnace, and there is still space for the further expansion of the work equipment.

Each student is to have a separate desk which is to be supplied with both air and gas pipes, and a separate pulp balance for each, while every three students will have precise gold balances, mounted on solid concrete tables. Sinks and fuming hoods, and a lavatory with a shower bath and lockers, are also to be provided for their use.

All dust producing operations, so far as is possible will be confined to the crushing room, where an exhaust ventilating system will keep the air free of the flying particles from the crushers, conveyors and dryers, and the screens and trimmings for the dry screening, which will be done by hand, are to be in the crushing room, where there are also to be disc and ball grinders and rollers. The magnetic concentrators and separators are also to be set up in the crushing room.

At the southern end of the building the wet concentrating equipment will occupy much space, as there are to be of the Hartz, movable sieve, pulsator and special laboratory types, as well as classifiers, settling and water cones, and a fine vanner and Wilfley table. Each machine is to be independent, with ample head room for sampling its feed and products and with pipe, launder and elevator systems to return these products for continuous treatment wherever possible. All of the important types of pulp elevators are also to be represented.

WALL STREET FEARS THE ATTACK ON COTTON POOL

Failure of Southern Company Proves a Disturbing Factor—Patten Ready With Cash.

New York, April 21.—Because of the investigation inaugurated by Attorney General Wickham of the so-called cotton pool, many large cotton operators express the fear that some of the big Wall street houses dealing in that staple are financially affected by the inquiry and that some of them may be forced to the wall.

The failure of Knight, Yancey & Co., one of the largest spot cotton firms in the south, with offices at Birmingham, Ala., Decatur, Mobile and Memphis, for approximately $2,000,000, proved a disturbing factor, and while the failure was ascribed to the neglect by interior holders to deliver cotton on contracts, cotton men generally were of the opinion that it was due in great measure to the government's investigation of the pool.

Incidentally, James A. Patten, leader of the cotton speculators, came to town to protest against the government's attitude toward speculation in cotton.

Patten was said to have brought $15,000,000 in real money to carry on the fight, and he has the backing of some of the most powerful Chicago financial interests for a practically unlimited amount. Patten would not admit that he had so much money, but he declared he was prepared to pay cash for all the cotton for which he had contracted. From other sources it was learned that Patten had informed the shorts that he had no desire to squeeze them unmercifully, but was willing to let them down on easy terms. These overtures were rejected.

Patten has the cotton and asks on what principle he can be prevented from selling it to the best advantage.

HEARST LAUDS THE PRESIDENT.

Gives Taft Vigorous Indorsement But Passes Criticism on Roosevelt.

Washington, April 21.—William R. Hearst after a half hour's conference with President Taft came out in a public interview with an indorsement of the Taft administration which completely took away the breath of the Democracy.

To give his vigorous indorsement to Mr. Taft, Mr. Hearst found it necessary to pull down the record of Roosevelt and pass some criticisms upon the former president which will hardly find a welcome, even in the ranks of his own party.

Mr. Roosevelt, according to Mr. Hearst, found the country at the height of prosperity and plunged it into the depths of adversity.

The indorsement of the Taft administration was given in a statement which is signed with the full name of the Independent leader.

"No one can talk with the president without appreciating and respecting his earnestness and sincerity," says the statement. "Personally I believe also in his efficiency. He has been one year in office, and he has certainly accomplished more in that one year than Roosevelt did in his first year."

"It is hardly fair to compare Taft's one year with Roosevelt's seven, and yet I am not sure that even with that the comparison might not be to Taft's advantage. Taft's methods are not those of Roosevelt, but then Taft probably will not conclude his term with a panic."

Palmistry.

Palmistry, in its modern acceptation, is divided into two branches, chiromancy and chiromancy. Chiromancy defines the outward shape of the hand, and of its members, the thumb and fingers. The name is derived from the Greek and means "the laws of the hands." Chiromancy is also derived from the Greek and signifies divination by the hand—that is, by the lines, mounts and other marks on the palm of the hand.

STRIKERS AND OFFICERS CLASH IN BLOODY BATTLE AT M'KEE'S ROCKS.

THREE IN DYING CONDITION

More Than Hundred Shots Are Fired When Constables Undertake to Disperse Crowd of Foreign Speaking Workmen—Train Hits Striker.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 21.—Three men are dying and four others were severely injured as a result of a pistol fight between township constables and strikers at McKees Rocks.

The dying are: Constable James M. Daniels, who is shot through the abdomen and chest; Joe Hiron, a Hungarian striker, shot several times by the constables, and an unknown striker, who refuses to give his name.

Train Hits Striker.

In addition to this, one of the attacking strikers was hit by a train as he was escaping from the pursuing mob, and knocked over the bank. He is thought to have fallen into the river, but no trace of him could be found in the darkness. A farmer named Hannan was shot through the hand and two unknown foreigners were carried away by their friends, apparently badly injured, but their names cannot be learned.

The battle occurred just at dusk in the now notorious Bloody Angle, where so much rioting and bloodshed occurred in the last strike and where the Victor bank was looted and two employees killed some weeks ago.

Leader Harangues Fellow Workers.

There had been a mass meeting held by Industrial Workers of the World on a nearby Indian mound, and about 250 of the foreign speaking workmen on their way back stopped in the Bloody Angle to talk matters over. One leader was haranguing his fellow workmen in an unknown tongue and they were getting wildly excited when Chief of Police Edwin Silvers of Stowe township, with constables James M. Daniels, came up to the crowd and ordered it dispersed. The shooting immediately followed, and after about 100 shots had been fired the mob was finally put to flight. Twenty-four arrests were made.

ABANDON THE APOSTLES' CREED.

Congregational Deacons of New Haven Adopt New Confession of Faith.

New Haven, Conn., April 21.—A new confession of faith, which drops the Apostles' Creed and requires no formal expression as to the divinity of Christ, has been adopted by the deacons and will be presented for adoption by the center church (Congregational) of this city.

The significance of this action is that the church has strictly held to Puritan orthodoxy for more than two and a half centuries, having been founded in 1636. New members will only have to pledge themselves to belief in a higher life and to moral purposes. The old confession of faith will be spread upon the records of the church as a historical relic.

An explained by the church officers the purpose of the change is to make the confession of faith absolutely non-theological and to gather into membership those who have hitherto been barred by slight theological scruples.

BAND CONCERTS ARE A POSSIBILITY NOW

Talk of Having Series of Ten Concerts in Park This Summer Meets With General Approval.
As suggested by the Gazette last Saturday, the plan for raising for a fund to guarantee ten concerts by the Imperial band this summer in the Court House park during the summer months, has met with general approval not only of business men but also of many who enjoy music and have missed the concerts last year. The Gazette started the list with ten dollars subscription and will be glad to have all others who feel like contributing to add their names to the list at the office. A little later it is understood other lists will be placed in convenient places for all to sign or leave the cash and so the fund will grow. A committee of business men is also to be organized as a flying squadron to visit the business houses and seek contributions. The sum of $350 will be needed which will be thirty-five dollars per concert for ten concerts. The Gazette will be glad to publish the ideas of others on this subject in the form of communications if they are sent to the office signed. The name need not be used unless wished.

The wound was somewhat inflamed and its appearance here out the child's report according to Dr. Sartell, who was called to dress the injury.

ENUMERATORS HAVING SOME DIFFICULTIES

Census Workers Find Many Farmers Have Forgotten To Fill Out the Blank Forms.
Census enumerators working in the rural districts are complaining that the majority of the farmers have forgotten to fill out the blank forms furnished them by the government thus delaying the work seriously. They also find that many of the farmers are of the opinion that the figure Uncle Sam is trying to get for the purpose of taxation and not for the compilation of figures that will permit the determination of the real wealth of the country. The enumerators ask that the farmers' attention be called to the forms and ask that they fill them out so that if they are absent from the farm when the enumerator calls the wife can read them to the enumerator and not compel him to make another trip back to the farm to secure missing data.
There is not much complaint of the work in the city and it is thought that the count will have been completed within the specified time. In many cases where the man of the house is absent, the figures have all been prepared beforehand making the work much easier and more expeditiously handled.

Damage amounting to $25 was done to some of his own residence property. One of the specimens measured 3 inches in diameter.

TAFT IS ASSAILED; SENATE WRANGLE

SENATOR PURCELL SAYS PRESIDENT PLANS TO PACK SUPREME COURT.

ATTACK ON RAILROAD BILL

North Dakota Sejoon Says Rights of States Are Molested by Merger Permits, Declares Present Laws Are Ignored.

Washington, April 21.—Senator Purcell of North Dakota made a severe attack on the administration railroad bill and asserted that President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham are planning to make the Supreme court of the United States subservient to the executive and the railroad interests of the country.

He openly charged a purpose of so transforming the Supreme court as to insure such construction of the proposed law as to supplant and nullify antagonistic state laws and state constitutions.

Talks on Merger Provision.

He was dealing with the merger provision of the bill, and, having stated that the North Dakota state constitution prohibited the consolidation of railroad lines, he contended that under decisions of the Supreme court it had held in effect that questions of this character were subject to state control. He then proceeded:

Says Law Is Ignored.

"It must be apparent to everyone that when the president and the attorney general drafted this law they were familiar with existing laws in relation to the matter covered by section 12. It is fair to assume that they put it in this bill because they wanted to see it become a law. Section 12, if enacted, would conflict with the decisions mentioned.

"It can become operative only in one way. Of the members of the Supreme court which decided the Louisville & Nashville railroad case only three now are on the bench, and two are now entitled to their retirement. The court is now in a lamentable condition. Two vacancies now practically exist. Two more will soon exist in the natural course of events. This will make at least four appointments that the president will have to make.

"Having the power to appoint the members of this court, who finally determine the law upon all questions, he has the opportunity to appoint those whose sentiments in regard to section 12 accord with his. The attorney general would, no doubt, grace the Supreme bench, if he were appointed, would he not support his own handiwork?

Sees Subversive Court.

"How easy it would be for the president, through his new appointments, to bring about a change in existing law and to foist upon the people the provisions of section 12 as the law of the land.

"The pending bill demonstrates that the president is strongly inclined toward the interest of the railroads. Therefore, would he not make appointments of court of commerce judges known to be favorable to the railroads?"

Mr. Purcell criticised many of the provisions of the bill.

Senate in Long Wrangle.

Following Mr. Purcell's speech the senate engaged in a prolonged wrangle over a parliamentary entanglement relating to the status of amendments offered by Senators Crawford and Cummins to the provision legalizing traffic agreements between railroad companies.

The condition was at last relieved by the acceptance by Senator Elkins of the Crawford amendment as a substitute for the original provision.

"Young man, I would like very much to go to Central park."

My parents trained me to be a model, obedient, polite boy. Why can't you be like I was at your age?"

"But, papa," answered the lad, "what would be the use? It doesn't seem to have done any good in your case."

TWO RUSSELL BROTHERS NOW HAPPILY RE-UNITED AFTER 25 YEARS' SEPARATION.
At left, W. C. Russell; at right, "Freddie Dan," who has been, accepted as Daniel D. Russell.

Hoston, Mass.—For stranger than fiction are the facts brought to an climax last week in the Russell case at Melrose, Mass.
The case involves two brothers, an estate of nearly a million dollars, an alleged imposition, public sentiment so wrought up as to cause a riot, and, finally, the climax in the happy reunion of the two rightful brothers.
This story in real life opened when a North Dakota ranchman, claiming to be the brother of William C. Russell, and popularly known as North Dakota Dan, entered suit to get possession of half the estate so long enjoyed by William C. Russell. After a long trial, in which William Russell denounced the North Dakota claim-

COMMITTEE WHICH APOLOGIZED TO PRESIDENT TAFT FOR THE HISSING EPISODE.
From left to right, Frances Squire Potter of New York city; Harriet Taylor Upton of Warren, Ohio; Anna Howard Shaw of Moylan, Pa.; Ella S. Stewart of Chicago, Ill.; Rachel Foster Avery of Swarthmore, Pa.; Washington, D. C.—The regrettable incident in which President Taft was publicly blessed by members of the National Woman Suffrage convention is a closed chapter as far as President Taft is concerned, but it will be remembered for a long time to the chagrin of many of the equal suffrage leaders. A committee was appointed to wait upon the president and in their apologies, it is claimed, disclaimed any feeling of antagonism, such as was shown during the address.

Unwarranted Assumption.

A youth from the Horton neighborhood went to Nevada and got a marriage license. He supposed he was the girl's first choice, although he had never come to any "definite understanding" on the subject. The Sunday following the purchase of the license the couple went to church, and during the progress of the service the young man unfolded the certificate and, showing it to the girl beside him, said: "Let's go up after the preacher gets through and get married." The young woman was so shocked that she could not speak for a few moments. Then she told him he had spent his money foolishly and asked that he never speak to her again. The "sympathy of the community" is divided.—Kansas City Star.

All Types of Forms Fitted Elegantly and Comfortably at the Big Store

We direct notice to our complete line of Bon Ton, Royal Worcester and Adjusto Corsets.

Few, if any, corsets, except the BON TON are worthy of comparison with such ideals of health, beauty and symmetry as the Three Graces.

The illustration portrays three views of an exquisite BON TON creation, modelled upon extreme lines fully in accord with the latest edict of fashion. Appropriate as the correct foundation of gowns for any occasion and especially for the new snug-fitting costumes of this season. The elastic gores and unboned skirt are noteworthy features.

Model 912 has very long hips and front and medium high bust. The back also is very long and is flexible at bottom. 6 supporters. White batiste. Sizes 18 to 30. PRICE $4.00.

Royal Worcester Corsets

Combine all the principles of hygienic corset construction with the utmost in style, fit and workmanship.

Each model is an original conception designed upon correct lines to mould and shape the form until it appears stylish and graceful.

Don't invest in a new gown until you procure a ROYAL WORCESTER over which your modiste may fit it and attain the proper effect.

For those of average figure, Style 573 is perfectly adapted. Has medium bust, very long hips, cutaway front and long back which extends below the ends of boning several inches. 6 supporters. Non-rustable boning. White batiste. PRICE $2.00.

ADJUSTO Corsets With Patent Reducing Bands

ADJUSTO Corsets are presented for 1910, showing the famous "adjusting bands" (patented) with the new EXTENSION TABS and SUPPORTER LOOPS.

Each tab or reducing band extends to bottom edge of corset where it is joined to one end of an elastic loop, the other end of which is attached to the corset skirt.

The hose supporter is attached to this loop through a sliding ring and when fastened to the hose, holds down band and corset skirt smooth and flat.

Thus a far greater reduction of abdomen, hips and upper limbs is accomplished than heretofore and the wearer enjoys the utmost support and comfort.

THE ADJUSTO

is universally recognized as the most practical, hygienic and effective reducing corset ever invented. The "adjusting bands" can be tightened or loosened instantly without removing from the figure.

Stout, medium and average women—thousands of them—are now wearing the ADJUSTO. If you would conceal all excess flesh, appear stylish, graceful and enjoy better health and more comfort, the ADJUSTO is the ultimate corset. PRICE $3.00

BIG INCREASE IN
POSTAL BUSINESS
AT LOCAL OFFICE

ALL DEPARTMENTS SHOW MARK-ED GROWTH FOR FISCAL

YEAR.

AVERAGE 31,731 PIECES

That Amount Handled Every Twenty-
four Hours—Money Orders Amount to Over Two Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Records for the year ending March 31, recently compiled, show a marked increase in every line of business handled at the local postoffice. Not only do the receipts for the entire year exceed any former year, but the records for the quarter ending March 31, which include the months of January, February and March, show this quarter to be among the record quarters at the local office and this quarter, which follows the holidays, is usually considered the duller in the year.

According to the reports, the total receipts for the year ending March 31, 1910, exceed those for the year ending March 31, 1909, by $3,101.67,
which is the difference between $51, 407.03 for the former and $48,305.36
for the latter. This increase is particularly interesting to the postoffice
officials as the salaries for the following year are based on the receipts for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1910.

These receipts must, however, reach a total of $60,000 before a change is made, but from the growth last year,
this would seem to be only a matter
of a few cents.

With receipts totalling $1,787.12,
the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1909 was the largest ever experienced in the local office. During the three months, which of course included the Christmas business, stamps to the amount of $1,555.70 were sold, second class matter brought in $207.68 and box rents netted $175.00. During this time the office expenses, $5,814.48 for salaries, $56.90 for special delivery fees and $37.75 miscellaneous expenses, amounted to $5,909.09, which left $8,377.94 to be credited to the office,
which is a very respectable showing.

Not only have the strictly mail departments shown a substantial growth
but the number of pieces of registered mail and the number of money orders paid, and issued during the year ending March 31, 1910, far exceed the 1908 records. In the latter period, there were 36,163 pieces of registered mail handled and during last year there were 41,419 pieces handled,
an increase of 4,256 pieces.

A proportional increase also is recorded in the money order department. In 1908 the money orders paid and issued numbered 28,193, while for 1909 it was 29,441, an increase of 1,248 orders. These orders, represented $291,101.18 in cash paid out or received at the money order window during the year.

Average Day's Work.
An interesting test, one that shows
the amount of mail that must be handled during a working day of twenty-four hours at the postoffice was carried out recently. One working day of twenty-four hours was chosen and a record kept of the number of pieces of mail handled during the entire day. It was found that 31,731 pieces of mail were handled, consisting of 13,516 dispatched, 16,396
received and 289 transient. This day was chosen at random, did not bring out any record amount of mail and gives a fair idea of the local office.

Some idea of the sources from which the total revenue of the local postoffice is drawn can be gleaned from a record of the number and denomination of the stamps sold. Following is a record of those sold during 1909.

Stamps Sold.
One-cent, 1,075,000; two-cent, 1,278,
000; three-cent, 19,900; four-cent, 10,
600; five-cent, 11,500; eight-cent, 5,
200; ten-cent, 27,550; fifteen-cent, 1,
one dollar, 10; twenty-cent special, 2,850;
one-dollar, 6,712; twenty-five-cent book of one-cent stamps, 970; twenty-five-cent book of two-cent, 2,590;
forty-five-cent book of two-cent, 890;
and ninety-seven-cent book of two-cent, 290.

Post Cards.
One-cent post cards, 204,500; two-cent reply cards, 5,622; stamped envelopes, 304,572; paper wraps, 21,400.

Although the receipts for the quarter just passed show an increase, this quarter is really the duller of the year in this city and with the present quarter which ends June 30, it is expected that the increase over last year will be much greater for the same period.

NEW CITY COUNCIL
HAS BEEN ORGANIZED

City Board of Monroes Have Taken
Places and Wheels of Government Are Turning Smoothly.

(Special to the Gazette.)
Monroe, Wis., April 21.—The members of the new city council have taken their places and things are moving along much in the same old way.
Mayor Knight has announced his appointments of the various committees. In order that the work done by the street committee shall work to the best advantage, a member from each ward had been appointed to look after his own ward and the city force shall be kept in one ward until the work is completed before moving to another ward. This committee will meet once a week and submit accounts.

Edward Roesiger was elected to the presidency of the council and W. A.
Nance retains his place as street commissioner. There were two other appointments for this position, Joe Land and Robert Gray. Dr. R. B. Clark, Dr. D. S. Sweeney and Dr. A. S. Stauffer will be members of the board of health and Dr. W. D. Gungl has been appointed health commissioner by the council. Other city officers have been elected as follows: city clerk, Wm.
Pawelk; city attorney, A. S. Donglas; sexton, Wm. Drake; city weigh-master and inspector, Chas. T. Meythaler; police justice, M. E. Baltzer; Christ Roth succeeds Evan Smith on the water board.

This is the second term for Mayor W. J. Knight and in welcoming the new members to the council he expressed the wish that all might work in harmony and to the end that the best interests of the city would be served. He also thanked the retiring members for the support which they had given him and expressed his appreciation of their work.

Cyclists Caused Trouble.
A band of cyclists created much disturbance here yesterday afternoon on the streets. Three women belonging to the outfit, who were hogging on the streets, were taken in charge by Marshal Blunt and marched to the jail. The rest of the cyclists were told to move out and get as far as the Route Number yards, south of the square, when two horses hitched to one of the wagons became frightened
at the afternoon train on the Milwaukee road and broke loose from the wagon and ran away, nearly upsetting the occupants. Some time passed before the horses could be caught and hitched up again. In the meantime large crowd congregating to see what was going on. Some of the male members of the band made their threats to the officers that they would return within a year and for the officers to "watch out."

Personal News.
H. W. Hillon met with a slight injury to two fingers and the thumb of his right hand yesterday while working at the yard of the Monroe Lumber & Coal Co. He caught the members in a planer and cut them quite deep.

Henry Brown has brought action against Adolph Hoelt, a tenant who has been occupying the Brown farm east of the city. Hoelt moved onto the farm March 1st, and later had trouble with the owner of the property. Hoelt held an auction sale but refused to eject him and Hoelt now comes back with a claim of $500 damages. J. D. Dunwiddie is appearing for Brown and John Lechinger and W. H. McGrath for Hoelt.

Geo. W. Thorpe, who moved from here to Williamsburg, Va., several years ago, has sold his property there, consisting of a farm of 200 acres, the farm netting him $7000. He will invest in more Virginia property. He is the father of Ed. Thorpe, of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Meythaler have gone to Stockton, Ill., to visit their daughter, Mrs. Jesse L. Drou.
Richard Gibbons has gone to Wald,
S. D., with a carload of emigrant goods for John Keegan, who recently moved there. Mr. Gibbons will also look after his own interests while there.

Mrs. Martha Rolf, Mrs. A. F. Rote
and Mrs. E. J. Bolender are in Milton attending the district federation of Woman's clubs. Mrs. Rote is recording secretary from the first district.
Rev. J. C. Kaufman has returned to Mt. Carmel, Ill., after spending a short time there with his son, Luther Kaufman.

FISHING POOR, IS
THE REPORT TODAY

Local Isaac Walltons Do Not Find
That the Members of the Fishing Club Want to Be Caught.

Despite the fact that fishermen can fish all the year round in Rock river this far this spring those who have taken advantage of this have not met with great success. Many have taken trips to Indian Lake, where fishing is always good, and come back with the report that they fish this spring do not seem to care for the bait offered. At least none of the big ones have come back in the fishermen's baskets and those who are usually counted on to supply their friends have thus far not even had a good mess for themselves. "A little later," said one noted fisherman today, "say next week if it warms up, fishing will be fine. There are lots of fish in the river but they do not seem to want to bite and need to be coaxed some."

A KANSAS MAN HAS
LATEST SOLUTION

Thinks That High Price of Meats
Might Be Cut Down by Eating
the Sparrow.

With this line and cry about the high price of meat the residents of Janesville may be interested in the latest theory of a Kansas man who thinks that the common variety of English sparrows, "the pesky sparrows" as they are called, might be utilized in delicious pot pies. The idea is set forth in the following and might be considered by Janesville housewives to see if their opinion would coincide with the views of Charles Finch of the Lawrence, Kansas, who also is an expert of note, writes concerning the English sparrow as a table delicacy as follows:
"There is a scientific article going the rounds of the papers that is partly a joke. People think it is a joke, but it isn't. It is about eating English sparrows; that is, there is nothing smaller or more plentiful in the way of birds that is better. The writer of this got his first idea of eating English sparrows in the French market at New Orleans. There, seated in one of the thousand stalls, was an old auntie busy as a bee and apparently happy as a lark, with a basket filled with the sparrows while she patiently plucked off the feathers and laid the dressed birds
up in piles and half dozens and dozens. She sold all she could dress, and that many people who had money with which to buy anything they wanted frequently patronized her English sparrow stall. A trial showed that the birds were most excellent eating and that a potpie of them was equal to any bird pie, save that if one is in a hurry he must not be particular about bones. It is to be feared, however, that they will not become a popular game bird for the market on account of the inclination of the American people to be in a hurry, and it takes about as long to get the feathers off a sparrow as off a chickmittee To Select Production For Commemoration Exercises.

The preliminary work for the se-school at the Commemoration exercises in June, was begun this week.

Mrs. Janet B. Day, who is to have charge of the preparations, meeting with a committee chosen from the class to pick a suitable play. As yet there has been no production selected and it has been decided that the production has been decided upon,
which will be something this week,
the work of selecting the cast will be started. The class of 1910 will graduate about forty-five members and those not participating in the play will take part in the class exercises
on Class Night and Graduation Night.
As soon as it is known who will have parts in the play, the ones not in the cast will start work on their essays, theses and other exercises
for Commemoration.

Will Have Screen For The
Lantern Views at School
Prof. Arbutnot Arranging for Curtain for Stereopticon Lectures
In Main Room.

Professor John Arbutnot of the high school faculty is arranging a curtain for showing stereopticon views in the main room of the high school building. Lectures by the teachers on various subjects, such as travels, science and other topics, have become popular and the use of the lantern is a great aid in illustrating the talks. Heretofore it has not been very convenient to show the slides
in the main room, as there was no arrangement for the screen on which to throw the views. However, a roller and sheet have been secured and will be put in position for the when necessary.

FROST DAMAGE HAS BEEN VERY SLIGHT

Reports From Throughout the County
Show That But Little Real Damage Was Done.

After the warm weather of March the cold snap, with frost and less of the past few days has somewhat discouraged the gardeners and farmers who had anticipated an exceptionally early spring. The real damage throughout the country as far as can be learned, however, will be very slight. The berry bushes, it is said, had not started to blossom, so consequently will not be damaged, and but few of the smaller shrubs and fruit trees show any sign of frost damage. Cherries, apples, crabapples and others, whose branches are above the ground several feet, are said to not have suffered at all. Garden truck that was in the ground and up does not appear to have been more than delayed in growth. However, several fields of potatoes where sprouts had appeared will have to be re-planted. Indications now point to warmer weather and planting will be pushed along. The soil is exceptionally well equipped for a long, dry summer and if its richness can be attested by the weeds that appear in the plowed fields, it promises large crops.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deeply hidden. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance
thickened, poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, bright-stone or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lameness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a crangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it,
and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often throughout the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the best because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone.

MARK TWAIN GROWING WEAKER.

Physician Thinks He Will Live Another 24 Hours at Least.

Danbury, Conn., April 21.—In spite of his growing weakness Mark Twain sat up in bed and laughed at several of his own jokes. His mind appeared to be clearer, although he felt into several naps. He is not suffering severely, but complaints of pressure around his heart.

Albert H. Colwell, M.D., Mr. Twain's secretary, declared that the patient might live a week or two, although a sudden end was not unexpected. Dr. Robert H. Halsey of New York is in constant attendance and said that he thought Mr. Twain was in no danger during the next twenty-four hours.

It is said that Mr. Twain is not unkind of the end himself, as his attendants showed. However, he seemed to be in a calm and even cheerful frame of mind.

"My faith, this country!" she exclaimed with genuine surprise. "What extraordinary things it does! I have just seen history made between the lightings of a cigarette, as it were. Now comes this man and announces that since midnight he has met and won the lady who is to rule his heart, and that he is to marry her at six!"

"Then congratulate me!" I demanded.

"Ah," she said, suddenly absorbed; "it was that tall girl. Yes, yes, I see, I see! I understand! So then! You!"

"And will you have not congratulated me?"

"Ah, monsieur," she answered lightly, "the woman never congratulates a man when he has won another! What of my own heart?—Fie! Fie!" Yet she had curious color in her face.

"I do not credit myself with such fatal charms," said I. "Rather any what of my little clasp there. I promise that to the tall girl, as you know."

"And might I not wear it for an hour?"

"I shall give you a dozen better some time," said I; "but tonight—"

"And my slipper?" I said. I must have that back, because I cannot hop along with but one shoe all my life."

"That you shall have as soon as I can get to my rooms at Brown's hotel yonder. A messenger shall bring it to you at once. First, the slipper for madam. Then the license for myself. Then the minister. Then a friend."

Then a carriage. Five miles to Elmhurst, and the train for the north starts at eight. Indeed, as you say, the methods of this country are somewhat hurried. Madam, cannot you use your wits in a cause so worthy as mine?"

"I could not at the time understand the swift change of her features. 'One woman's wits against another's!' she flashed at me. 'As for that—'"

made a swift motion to her throat. "Here is the trinket. Tell the tall lady it is my present to you. Tell her I may send her a wedding present—when she wedding really is to happen. Of course, you do not mean what you have said about being married in such haste!"

"Every word of it," I answered. "I do not know." "Have you fortune?" "God knows, no!" "You have but love—and this country?"

"That is all." "It is enough," said she, sighing. "Dear God, it is enough! But then—" she turned to me suddenly—"I don't think you will be married so soon, after all. Wait."

"Ah, then you forbid our banner?" "If you challenge me," she retorted, "I shall do my worst."

"Then do your worst!" I said. "All of you do your joint worst. You cannot shake the faith of Elizabeth Churchill in me, nor mine in her. Oh, yes, by all means do your worst!"

"Very well," she said, with a catch of her breath. "At least we both said—on guard!"

"I wish I could ask you to attend at our wedding," I concluded, as her carriage approached the curb; "but it is safe to say that not even friends of the family will be present, and of those not all the family will be friends."

She did not seem to see her carriage as it passed, although she prepared to enter when I opened the door.

What sat on her face was perplexity, wonder, amazement, and something else, I know not what. Something of her perfect poise and confidence, her quality as a woman of the world, seemed to drop away. A strange and childlike quality came into her face, a pathetic smile anything I had seen there before. She took my hand mechanically.

"Of course," said she, as though she spoke to herself. "It cannot be. But, dear God! would it not be enough?"

I did not understand her speech. I stood and watched her carriage as it whirled away. Thinking of my great need for haste, mechanically I looked at my watch. It was one o'clock. Then I reflected that it was at 11 of the night previous that I had first met the Baroness von Ritz. Our acquaintance had therefore lasted some 14 hours.

CHAPTER X.

Mixed Duties.
Most women forgive a liberty, rather than a slight.—Colton.

When I crossed the White House grounds and found my way to the spot where I had left my horse, I discovered my dandy boy lying on his back, fast asleep under a tree, the bridle reins hooked over his upturned foot. I awakened him, took the reins and was about to mount, when at the moment I heard my name called.

"Turning, I saw emerge from the door of Gaudier's little cafe, across the street, the tall figure of an erstwhile friend of mine, Jack Dandridge of Tennessee, credited with being the youngest member in the house of representatives at Washington—and credited with little else."

Dandridge had been taken up by friends of Jackson and Polk and carried into congress without much plan or objection on either side. Since his arrival at the capital he had been present at few roll-calls, and had voted on fewer measures. His life was given up in the main to one specialty, to-wit: the compounding of a certain beverage, invented by himself, the constituent parts of which were bourbon whiskey, absinthe, square-faced gin and a dash of eau de vie.

Jack Dandridge, it may be said, was originally possessed of a splendid constitution. Nearly six feet tall, his full and somewhat protruding nose was as yet only a trifle watery, his wide lip only a trifle loose, his strong figure only a trifle portly. Socially he had been well received in our city, and during his stay east of the mountains he had found occasion to lay desperate suit to the hand of none other than Miss Elizabeth Churchill. We had been rivals, although not enemies; for Jack, finding which way the wind sat for him, withdrew like a man, and cherished no ill will. When I saw him now, a sudden idea came to me, as that I crossed the street at his invitation.

"Jack," I exclaimed, grasping him by the shoulder, "you are the man I want. You are the friend that I need—the very one."

"Certainly, certainly," he said; "but please do not disarrange my cravat. Will you have a Dream with me? I construct them now with three additional quills of the absinthe." He looked his arm in mine.

"You may have a Dream," said I; "but for me, I need all my head to-day. In short, I need both our heads as well."

Jack was already rapping with the head of his cane upon the table, to call an attendant, but he turned to me. "What is the matter? Lady, this time?"

"Two of them." "Indeed? One apiece, eh?" "None apiece, perhaps. In any case, you lose."

"Then the names—or at least one?" "I finished a bit in spite of myself. 'You know Miss Elizabeth Churchill?'"

"He nodded gravely. 'And about the other lady?'" "I cannot tell you much about her," said I. "I have but little knowledge myself. I mean the Baroness von Ritz. I must be quick. I have in my possession—on the bureau in my little room at my quarters in Brown's hotel—a slipper which the Baroness gave me last night—a white satin slipper—"

Jack finished the remainder of his glass at a gulp. "Good God!" he remarked.

"Quite right," I retorted hotly. "Accuse me! Anything you like! But go to this address with it!"—scrawled on a piece of paper and thrust it at him—"then get a carriage and hasten to Elmhurst drive, where it turns in at the road. Wait for me there, just before six."

He sat looking at me with amusement and amazement both upon his face, as I went out.

"Listen to what I am to do in the meantime. First I go post-haste to Mr. Calhoun's office. Then I am to take his message, which will send me to Canada, to-night. After I have my orders I hurry back to Brown's and dress for my wedding."

The glass in his hand dropped to the floor in splinters.

"Your wedding?" "Yes, Miss Elizabeth and I concluded this very morning not to wait. I would ask you to help me as my best man, if I dare."

"You do dare," said he. "You're all a-fluster. Go on! I'll get a person—how'll Dr. Hafford do?—and I'll take care of the license for you. I could—God! sorry it's not my own!"

"You are the finest fellow in the world, Jack. I have only one thing more to ask"—I pointed to the splintered glass upon the floor—"Don't get another."

"Of course not, of course not!" he expostulated. His voice was just a trifle thickened. We left row together for the license clerk, and I entrusted the proper document in my friend's hands. An instant later I was outside, mounted, and off for Calhoun's office at his residence in Georgetown.

At last, as for the fourth time I flung down the narrow walk and looked down the street, I saw his well-known form approaching. He walked slowly, somewhat stooped, upon his

WOOL SITUATION AS VIEWED BY EXPERT

Elmer Bullard of Evansville Writes to the Gazette on the Market for This Commodity.

The prices of domestic wool last summer and autumn were relatively much higher than foreign, that summer importations followed. These importations have continued, notwithstanding the declining prices on domestic wools, which have been continuous since the high winter market last November.

Wool in the United States this year, like the majority of the preceding twenty years, seems likely to bring the lowest price of the whole year in the spring and early summer. This was the case in 1890, '95, '96, '97, '99, 1901, '02, '04, '05, '07, '08 and '09.

Growers are likely to be disappointed this year at the apathy of buyers at early clip time. Owing to this many growers are likely to be stampeded into selling at lower prices than they will obtain in the autumn and winter, as in the years above named.

Imports of foreign wool for the eight months ending February, were 70 per cent greater than the average for the same eight months of the two previous years. Imports of foreign wool for the calendar year of 1909 were over 312,000,000 lbs., the largest for any single year under any tariff law, having duties upon imported wool and 71 per cent larger than the average of the previous ten years, showing that the tariff is not too high, otherwise this large importation would not have taken place.

Excessive imports of foreign wool at a time when orders for goods are lacking is a combination which is responsible for the fall in price of domestic wool. This decline comes at a time when prices for wools in the outside markets of the world for like kind and character are either unchanged or higher.

This decline we believe to be one of those temporary drops that often occur. We believe there will be a reaction before the close of the year, in spite of excessive wool imports, and the temporary shutting down of all or part of some of the larger mills.

Our faith is based on the existence of many reasons why prices for wool in the United States should be higher rather than lower. Among them is the very important one of the exhaustion of supplies of heavy wools, owing to the severe winter, which, sooner or later, must give renewed employment to machinery now idle.

The idea has taken strong hold of the public that the cost of living has increased, and consumers are economizing in their clothing, and as a consequence of this economy, orders for heavy weight woolen goods have woefully decreased, and wool consumption necessarily has likewise decreased.

Wool consumption for the year 1909 was estimated at 600,000,000 lbs., the largest on record, and the requirements for 1910 to supply the now machinery it was thought would exceed 650,000,000 lbs., and the large wool imports were to meet this expected increase in demand, especially as the wool production of last year in the United States, in its clean condition, ready for the cards, was less than half the total consumption for that year.

But instead of starting new machinery, old machinery is being shut down, with the result that sales for January were one-third less than in November, 50 per cent less in February, and since then things have gone from bad to worse, and the sales for March were over 75 per cent below those of November.

In view of this falling off in the demand for wool, prices would have declined more than they have, were it not for the influence of advancing foreign markets.

Wools delivered east, medium unwashed wools are held at 33c to 34c for Ohio three-eighths and half-blood, and 31c and 32c for Ohio quarter blood, Michigan and similar wools are worth 32c and 33c for half and three-eighths blood, and 31c for quarter blood. Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri bright medium wools are offered at about one cent less than Michigan.

Another fact is that the nation was never so wealthy as now. That is because the new wealth taken out of the earth during the past year was the largest on record; and another in that employment of labor in productive industries at a higher wage scale than ever before outside the working class to buy woolen clothing at least as freely as ever before.

The primary cause for the decline in wool was undoubtedly the check in 50,000 SERMONS DECLARE WAR UPON CONSUMPTION. Typical Tuberculosis Hospital and Dr. Elwood Worcester, active in fight against white plague.

The country have declared for national tuberculosis Sunday, and anti-tuberculosis associations are working to promote the movement in their respective localities.

The national office has sent out 40,000 outlines for a tuberculosis sermon which will be used next Sunday. Probably not less than 50,000 sermons will be preached and fully 7,000,000 people will hear the message of tuberculosis and its prevention. In many churches collections for the benefit of tuberculosis work will be taken, but the educational value of the sermons, talks and lectures that will be given will be of more help than the money received.

Dr. Elwood Worcester, the leader of the Emanuel movement, says: "All persons who are acquainted with the powerful prevalence of tuberculosis in this country realize that the disease can be checked and finally controlled only through the co-operation of all available forces. Among these agencies the church ought to be

The war against consumption is being carried into the church, and next Sunday, April 24, will be known as "Tuberculosis Sunday" over the entire United States. From over 50,000 pulpits sermons will be preached against this "white plague." This is a nation's war and is being conducted irrespective of theology or creed. The Catholics, the Protestants, the Jews and Gentiles are all in this campaign, which is to mark one of the greatest triumphs of civilization the world has ever known.

According to the best informed scientists of today, tuberculosis is the result of ignorance and it is a campaign of education which is being conducted. Five governors and 14 mayors have issued regular proclamations calling on the citizens of their states or cities to observe the day, and many other governors and mayors have given the movement their approval in some way. Bishops and high churchmen in all denominations have endorsed the movement. The leading inter-denominational boards and bodies have also expressed their approval. Physicians in all parts of

He Had a Choice of Churches. A young man who travels in the west for a local manufacturing firm was telling his friends of his trip. "Last Sunday I was in a little town that boasted one small hotel," he said, "and I asked the landlord where I could go to church."

"Well," he said, "I guess you want to know the different denominations. You can take your choice of what we got. We got a Reformed Presbyterian, an' we got a United Presbyterian an' we got another Presbyterian that ain't neither reformed or united."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
